

Reef Knot

A reef knot is a binding knot and is used to hold things together such as parcels or for tying a triangular bandage. It is a knot used with a single piece of rope and is not used to tie two different ropes together.

